CONFERENCE IN SESSION

MEETING OF STATE CHARITIES OR-GANIZATION IN FORT WAYNE.

Outlook Is for an Attendance of 300-Annual Address Is Delivered by President Alexander Johnson.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 23 .- The annual conference of the State Charities and Corrections organization began here this evening at the First Presbyterian Church. The address of welcome was made by Samuel M. Foster, chairman of the local committee on reception, and Alexander Johnson, president of the conference, and widely known in the State benevolencies, delivered the annual address. His theme was "Ideals in Private Life and Public Affairs." It was heard with large interest.

After the general-meeting the guests were entertaind in the parlors of the church. The members of the State Board of Charities. Warden Reid, of the penitentiary, and Superintendent Whittaker, of the Reformatory, Dr. Rogers, of the Logansport Insane Hospital, and Dr. Smith, of the Eastern Hospital, Mrs. John Elam and scores of county commissioners, county guardians of children and members of the State boards have arrived. The outlook is for an attendance of 300.

POLITICS AT LAFAYETTE.

Candidates Are Being Groomed for the Principal City Offices.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 23.-With the city primaries five months away, slates are already being formed and names suggested for the more important city offices. Democrats particularly are seeking their strongest men, with the hope of landing their candidate in the mayor's chair to succeed | Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Glick, who played a prominent role in the Glascock scandal case, is also mentioned for the Democratic nomination. Another name suggested is that of George R. Durgan. The Republicans have not yet come forward with an avowed candidate, but Mayor Sample has announced that he will not accept a renomination. The slatemakers of both parties are expected to meet soon now and announce the candidates who will seek recognition in the primaries.

BULL MAKES HIS ESCAPE.

Gets Out of a Car and Runs Wild Through Fort Wayne Streets.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 23 .- The express messenger for the Adams Express Company had an exciting experience here this morning with a bull which had been consigned from Fuller & O'Connor, of Chicago, to Michael Bros., at Kirby, O.

The bull was in a crate and when the car was opened he was so desperate for fresh air and freedom that he kicked the crate to pieces and jumped from the car to the platform. He then ran wild for a time through the principal streets. He finally ran into a feed yard, where he was caught. The train had gone on but the animal was again crated and forwarded to his destination.

Tippecanoe County Farmer Has as Ingenious Device.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 23.-William Hubertz, a farmer living on rural route No. 4, has perfected a device which seems destined to revolutionize the present method of ditch digging. The inventor claims for his device that it will dig a trench four feet deep and across a four-mile stretch of country in a day. A-strip four inches wide is excavated at each trip across the four miles. Two or four horses draw the machine, which consists of a mechanism on two wheels. A roller cutter is swung between the wheels and a plow follows. An elevator carries the earth back to a shunter. Mr. Hubertz has a working model on his farm.

ONE CELL FOR EACH MAN.

Mr. Whittaker Puts a New Plan in Practice at the Reformatory.

Special to the Indiacapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 23.-Last night, for the first time, every inmate of the Reformatory occupied a cell by himself. Heretofore two women have occupied one cell in many instances, but soon after he went into office Superintendent Whittaker began to arrange affairs to prevent this. It is believed that the adoption of the separate cell idea will result in preventing many evils, that of necessity existed where two or more men occupied the same cell. No end of labor was required to make the change. The two older cellhouses were ventilated, cleansed, disinfected and given JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 23.-The little town of Henryville, fifteen miles north of here, was thrown into excitement late vesterday afternoon by a duel between John Kimberlin, John L. Sullivan and Joe Bloom. The trouble arose over the division between Kimberlin and Sullivan of some farm products and Sullivan began hestilities by emptying both barrels of his shot-The latter grabbed his gun, but found both barrels to be empty. At this point Bloom came to his assistance and fired four shots from a revolver at Sullivan. All the shots went wild and the men had to give up the fight because of lack of am-

Threatened to Kill His Child.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Sept. 23.-Riley Richardson, of this city, while on a drunken spree last night, took his infant child by the heels and threatened to dash its brains out unless his wife gave him $5. With a knife in one hand he seized the child from the mother's arms and dashed out of the house and into the night. Justice Jacob Maddex gave chase to Richardson in a buggy and he was captured on the Ritter pike and the child taken from him and given to its grandmother. When the officers captured him they placed him under arrest and took a vicious looking knife away from him. He was heavily fined and is now in jail.

> Machine in London. London Express. It will shortly be possible to obtain an acny-in-the-slot automatic machine. Pennyin-the-slot insurance is not a new idea. Two years ago a machine was devised which issued insurance policies against accidents for the sum of 1 penny, but, unfortunately, it proved to be an invitation to The machine left it to the honor of the purchaser to write on the ticket the time and date of purchase, and many tickets were bought after the accident.

This difficulty has been overcome by an inventor who has the appearance of a clock in a glass case, and which was on view re-

When the penny is dropped into the slot and a handle drawn forward, a sharpened peucil drops out and an opening is disclosed upon which the customer signs his name. The handle is then pushed back, the space closes, an insurance policy is issued, and against the signature inside the machine is printed the date and exact time of issue, If the purchaser meets with an accident within seven days of the issue of the policy he applies to the Law Accident Insurance Society, and if his name is on the register he receives a weekly allowance for five weeks. Any one will be able to insure up to the amount of his weekly wage-each penny invested providing 10 shillings per week. Attached to each policy are four coupons, and on presentation of these to tradesmen in the neighborhood of the machine a discount of 1 penny in the shilling on all goods bought up to 4 shillings will be allowed. Thus the wise workman who is earning £2 a week will, after investing 3d in the machine, hand his wife £1 19s and twelve coupons instead of £2. The balance of 9d he can give to the fresh air fund to provide one child with a day in the country. On this basis it can be argued that he gets his insur-ance policy for nothing and 3d profit on each penny invested. It is proposed to place these machines in factories, warehouses and mills where large
